

News You Can Use from IIP/AF July 2008

1. Elections 2008 Americana

This list of resources may be useful for election events you're planning.

First, the free stuff: U.S. military bands provide music free for download, and the selections change. Check out the following links to find (free!) patriotic and Americana music for your events:

Next, the stuff you have to pay for: Maputo PAO Kristin Kane has identified a link where you can find cardboard stand-up cut-outs of the Presidential candidates; best of all these can be pouched – check out www.advancedgraphics.com. From GPS (Manila), at <http://gps.state.gov/shoponline.catal>, you can order paper American flags. And if you need other red-white-and-blue stuff, try the following:

1. The Beistle Company www.beistle.com (banners, buntings, pins, flags, etc.)

2. Summit Marketing http://www.theideacatalog.com/summit\_dc

2. Elections 2008 – new (and free!) from IIP:

The newest Elections PowerPoint is now available on InfoCentral, at <https://infocentral.state.gov/outreach-tools/power-points>. The powerpoint has also been posted in InfoCentral in Portuguese and in French.

The Elections 2008 “package” on America.gov is a frequently updated collection of facts and features on the 2008 Elections, at

<http://uspolitics.america.gov/uspolitics/elections/index.html>

<http://www.america.gov/fr/uspolitics/elections/index.html>

And from PAO Ouagadougou, Joann Lockard, these French translations of earlier powerpoints on U.S. Elections :

3. 50 Years of US-Africa Partnership

AF/PD's Greg Garland has written a wonderful readable account of early US-Africa relations and the establishment of the Africa Bureau, "Nixon, Bunche Saw the Future of US-Africa Relations". It's also available in French and Portuguese

4. Food and Agriculture in Africa

IIP has produced a series of articles about food and agriculture in Africa; many of these have been translated into French, and a few into Portuguese:

"Business Changing in Africa to Confront Food Crisis"

"Global Food Crisis Demands New Approach to African Agriculture"

"Chicago Forum Seeks to Link Africans, Americans in Agribusiness"

"Economists Cite Six Factors for Oil, Food Price Hikes"

"Strong Forces Now Reshaping World Food Markets"

"World's Hungry Fed Through U.S. Government Programs"

"Former USAID Chief Says Agriculture is Africa's Biggest Need"

"Africa Needs Transportation Capacity Now, Experts Say"

5. New from IIP

A July 2 cable – offers free DVDs of 14 IIP videos on elections and sports.

The videos on these DVDs have all rights, including broadcast, but they're only in English, and in order to get the DVD you must agree to provide a post-usage report. We're aware of the need for language versions of these, and are exploring possibilities.

DVDs of "A Son's Sacrifice," ordered by a dozen AF posts, should be mailed out shortly. French and Arabic versions should be available soon. This film will have all rights except broadcast. A French version will be available in the next few weeks, limit 1 per post: please let me know by July 31 if you need a French-language version on DVD.

We will be translating some IIP Elections videos into French in the fall, and we continue to provide digital audio (podcasts) in English and French on elections and other topics. (The podcasts come with transcripts, so may be useful in English-teaching activities, too.)
